Luxury Daily®
The News and Intelligence You Need on Luxury

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Cond Nast, Marriott, Bentley, Rimowa and Selfridges

May 11, 2021

Versha Sharma, incoming editor in chief of Teen Vogue. Image credit: Cond Nast

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news for May 11:

Cond Nast appoints new Teen Vogue editor
Media group Cond Nast has appointed Versha Sharma as the editor in chief of Teen Vogue.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released State of Luxury 2019
Save $246

Please click here to read the article

Marriott reports $84M in Q1 revenue, as demand climbs
Hospitality group Marriott International recorded a 26.4 percent decrease in operating income for the first quarter of 2021, largely due to the COVID-19 pandemic and efforts to contain the virus.

Please click here to read the article

Bentley introduces kids bicycle to collection
British automaker Bentley Motors is expanding its product offerings for children with the new Bentley Balance Bike.

Please click here to read the article

Rimowa launches first NFT art auction
LVMH-owned German luggage brand Rimowa has become the first luxury travel brand to create a collection of conceptual non-fungible tokens (NFTs) designed for the metaverse.

Please click here to read the article

Selfridges expands services to include weddings
British department store chain Selfridges is launching a unique wedding experience for couples looking for a non-traditional ceremony.

Please click here to read the article

Amazon shares progress on anti-counterfeiting efforts

Amazon blocked more than 6 million suspicious attempts to create selling accounts before a single item was listed for sale in 2020, according to a new report from the tech giant.

Please click here to read the article

Please click here to read the morning newsletter

© 2021 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.