Hosted by Condé Nast International, in partnership with Swarovski and Place Vendome, and led by Vogue International editor Suzy Menkes, the conference has brought together various speakers from across verticals to discuss the issues facing the industry and how the concept of luxury is evolving (see story).

Attendees of the conference were invited to visit Salvatore Ferragamo's "Equilibrium" exhibit at Museo Ferragamo. The nine-room exhibit honors Salvatore Ferragamo's dedication to the science and the art of the human foot.

The footwear label kindly extended the exhibit's run, which was scheduled to end April 15, to match with the days of the conference.
