

NEWS BRIEFS

Loro Piana, Chanel, Herms and Dior – Live news

October 26, 2015

Loro Piana baby cashmere drawing

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Oct. 23:

Loro Piana breeds transparency with cashmere production method

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Italian cashmere brand Loro Piana has devised a material sourcing method that ensures sustainable development without compromising its quality.

Click here to read the entire article

Chanel, Tribeca Enterprises lend support to female filmmakers

French fashion house Chanel is extending its relationship with New York-based Tribeca Enterprises, the organizer of the annual Tribeca Film Festival, to support women in film.

Click here to read the entire article

Herms shows off curiosities, artisanship in dual exhibits

French apparel and accessories maker Herms is exploring its favorite raw material for visitors to the ArtScience Museum in Singapore.

Click here to read the entire article

Dior journeys to ancestral home using 360-degree video

French atelier Christian Dior is welcoming consumers to its founder's childhood home in Normandy, France to better understand its Dior Prestige skincare line.

Click here to read the entire article

LVMH's Fondation Louis Vuitton sees 1.2M guests in first year

As of Oct. 24, LVMH's Fondation Louis Vuitton has been opened for a full year causing the conglomerate to share facts telling of the building's cultural impact.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.