

NEWS BRIEFS

Herms, Mot, Harry Winston and Lalique – Live news

December 9, 2015

Image from Herms' holiday campaign

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Dec. 8:

Herms takes sled ride to Paris in holiday short

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

French leather goods maker Herms is explaining how its orange boxes end up under the tree in a North Pole adventure.

Click here to read the entire article

Lalique, Steinway combine craftsmanship and creativity in crystal piano

Lifestyle brand Lalique and piano manufacturer Steinway & Sons have joined forces on a grand piano that unites the heritage of both houses.

Click here to read the entire article

Harry Winston plays new tune with ambassador Robin Thicke

Swatch-owned jeweler Harry Winston is looking for pop appeal with the addition of Robin Thicke as its newest ambassador.

Click here to read the entire article

Mot toasts 2016 via consumer-generated wishes

Mot & Chandon is putting itself at the center of New York's Times Square New Year's bash with a social media contest focused on consumers' number one person.

Click here to read the entire article