

NEWS BRIEFS

Harrods, Louis Vuitton, Manolo Blahnik and Burberry – Live news

February 1, 2016

Manolo Blahnik pumps

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Jan. 29:

Harrods to host society event benefitting contemporary art

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

British department store Harrods is hosting the future's contemporaries for a ticketed party at the Serpentine Gallery in London.

Click here to read the entire article

Jet Aviation gives back to community, raises \$46K for Boys & Girls Club

On Jan. 21 nearly 850 guests attended an event held at private aviator Jet Aviation's hub at Florida's Palm Beach International Airport to benefit the local chapters of the Boys & Girls Club.

Click here to read the entire article

Louis Vuitton drives sports fans to trunk-focused exhibition

French leather goods maker Louis Vuitton is linking together soccer, rugby and sailing for a two-day display at the Grand Palais in Paris.

Click here to read the entire article

Burberry targets younger market using Brooklyn Beckham, Snapchat

British fashion house Burberry is putting model Brooklyn Beckham at the helm of its Snapchat account to promote the Burberry Brit fragrance.

Click here to read the entire article

Manolo Blahnik focuses lens on man behind the pumps in new film

Click here to read the entire article
