

NEWS BRIEFS

Chanel, Valentino, British Fashion Council and London hotels – News briefs

April 29, 2016

Valentino fall/winter 2016 campaign

By STAFF REPORTS

Today in luxury marketing:

Thieves use 4X4 in ram raid on Paris Chanel store

Thieves used a 4X4 early Thursday morning to ram their way through the security grill of a Chanel store in central Paris in the latest brazen robbery on a luxury store in the French capital, reports Reuters.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Click here to read the entire article on Reuters

Valentino logs 9.4pc increase in first-quarter revenues, to realign prices in Asia

Valentino SpA on Thursday revealed continued growth in the first quarter of the year and a realignment of prices in Greater China and Southeast Asia, per Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the entire article on Women's Wear Daily

BFC unveils global fashion awards, London's answer to the Met Ball

On the evening of December 5, a vast, floodlit red carpet will transport many of the global fashion world's most high-wattage figures up the grand staircase of London's Royal Albert Hall to The Fashion Awards 2016, a newly christened annual awards event organized by the British Fashion Council (BFC), in partnership with Swarovski, says Business of Fashion.

Click here to read the entire article on Business of Fashion

London luxury hotels in worst year since 2009 on terror risk

Jitters about everything from the risk of terrorism to Britain's membership of the European Union are battering London luxury hotels as the world's wealthiest travelers stay away, according to Bloomberg.

Click here to read the entire article on Bloomberg