

NEWS BRIEFS

Donna Karan, Selfridges, Abercrombie & Kent and Fortnum & Mason – Live news

July 26, 2016

DKNY summer 2016 collection

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from July 25:

Selfridges gives fashion department a makeover in Designer Studio

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Responding to consumers' changing shopping habits, department store chain Selfridges is opening a new fashion concept at its London flagship.

Click here to read the entire article

Abercrombie & Kent gets capital boost from Chinese investment firm

Zhonghong Group is purchasing the majority of equity shares in luxury travel company Abercrombie & Kent from the company's current owners.

Click here to read the entire article

Fortnum & Mason encapsulates culinary heritage in print

British department store Fortnum & Mason is drawing on its more than 300-year history with food in its first cookbook.

Click here to read the entire article

LVMH sells Donna Karan International to G-III in \$650M deal

Conglomerate Mot Hennessy Louis Vuitton has entered a definitive agreement to sell the Donna Karan International business to fashion group G-III.

Click here to read the entire article