

NEWS BRIEFS

LVMH, Gucci, Tom Ford and Marriott – Live news

August 9, 2016

Gucci's spring/summer 2016 collection

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Aug. 8:

Dior flaunts flawless possibilities to debut runway-inspired fix

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

French couture house Christian Dior is tackling a handful of complexion woes with its latest beauty launch.

Click here to read the entire article on Luxury Daily

Chinese review of Marriott-Starwood merger extended

Marriott International and Starwood Hotels & Resorts have agreed to give the Chinese Ministry of Commerce (MOFCOM) an extension for its review of the hotel chains' merger.

Click here to read the entire article on Luxury Daily

Tom Ford taps Lalique to transform fragrance into objet d'art

U.S. fashion label Tom Ford is celebrating the tenth year of its Black Orchid fragrance with a limited-edition collection of perfumes and color cosmetics inspired by the scent.

Click here to read the entire article on Luxury Daily

Judge dismisses racketeering claims in Gucci's Alibaba suit

Racketeering claims in a lawsuit brought by Kering-owned brands including Gucci and Saint Laurent against Chinese marketplace Alibaba have been dismissed.

Click here to read the entire article on Luxury Daily

LVMH backs France's bid for 2024 Olympic and Paralympic Games

French fashion label Kenzo is supporting its home nation as it makes a bid to host the 2024 Olympic and Paralympic Games in Paris.

Click here to read the entire article on Luxury Daily

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.