

NEWS BRIEFS

Aston Martin, Kering, FCC and Turnbull & Asser – Live news

October 28, 2016

Mo Coppoletta working on the Furious Eagle print

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Oct. 27:

Selfridges' omnichannel goals come into fruition as fiscal 2015-16 ends

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

British department store Selfridges has announced strong results for the 2015-16 financial year, ending Jan. 31, 2016, recording a gross sales increase of 1.4 billion, or $1.2 billion at current exchange.

Click here to read the entire article

Aston Martin extends Art of Living concept to real estate venture

British automaker Aston Martin has partnered with a real estate developer to design luxury residences in downtown Miami, translating its brand ethos to at-home comforts.

Click here to read the entire article

Kering educates fashion's future on sustainable profit and loss methods

French luxury conglomerate Kering Group and Parsons School of Design are collaborating on a new course to measure the environmental impact of designs.

Click here to read the entire article

FCC votes in favor of unprecedented broadband privacy rules

In a 3 to 2 decision, the Federal Communications Commission has voted to adopt new privacy rules for broadband Internet service providers.

Click here to read the entire article

Turnbull & Asser shows its sartorial edge in tattoo artist collaboration

British menswear label Turnbull & Asser has teamed with a family-run tattoo parlor to present consumers with a bold and unexpected accessory collection.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.