

NEWS BRIEFS

Farfetch, Lamborghini, La Mer, and Porsche Design – Live news

November 8, 2016

Image from La Mer's holiday 2016 effort

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news updates from Nov. 7:

La Mer pays tribute to dreamers in motivational holiday animation

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Estée Lauder's Crème de La Mer is showing the near magical reward of perseverance in a festive film.

Click here to read the entire article

Porsche Design Tower creates aromatic ambience with custom fragrance

The Porsche Design-branded high-rise residential building in Miami is creating an individualized ambience with a signature scent.

Click here to read the entire article

Farfetch IPO still years away while heavy investment continues

Online retailer Farfetch sees a public offering as a possibility only after its strong investment period ends, which it anticipates happening as soon as two years from now.

Click here to read the entire article

Lamborghini teams with MIT to foster automotive innovation

Italian automaker Lamborghini is collaborating with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's MIT-Italy Program to create the super sports car of the future.

Click here to read the entire article