

NEWS BRIEFS

Gucci, Burberry, Herms and Faberg – Live news

February 9, 2017

Courtesy of Colossal Wall + Gucci

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Feb. 8:

Gucci illustrates New York street ahead of fashion week's start

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Italy's Gucci is celebrating the almost-forgotten art form of hand-painted outdoor advertising with a mural in New York's SoHo neighborhood.

Click here to read the entire article

Burberry puts collection inspiration center stage at Henry Moore exhibit

British fashion house Burberry is letting consumers in on the inspiration behind its February 2017 collection with an exhibition at Makers House.

Click here to read the entire article

Herms' "know-how control" leads to \$5.75B in sales for 2016

French leather goods maker Herms' consolidated revenue passed the 5 billion euro mark despite the difficult retail climate of 2016.

Click here to read the entire article

Harry Winston debuts logo-centric jewelry range

U.S. jeweler Harry Winston has lent its logo to a new jewelry collection in a retail environment where many have dialed back on branded monograms.

Click here to read the entire article

Faberg will raise prices by 10pc on March 1

Russian jeweler Faberg has announced plans to increase its pricing by 10 percent.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.