

NEWS BRIEFS

Manolo Blahnik, Dolce & Gabbana, Brioni and Neiman Marcus – Live news

March 15, 2017

Manolo Blahnik autumn 2017 collection trunk show on Moda Operandi

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from March 14:

Paris Gallery advances global presence with new duty-free points of sale

The Paris Gallery Group five-year plan concentrates heavily on developing the travel retailer's presence in the Middle East as the region further establishes itself as an international transportation hub.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Click here to read the entire article

Manolo Blahnik teams with Moda Operandi for autumn 2017 collection pre-orders

Footwear label Manolo Blahnik is sharing its craft and creativity with its first trunk show hosted by Moda Operandi.

Click here to read the entire article

Dolce & Gabbana plays off Game of Thrones character dynamic for The One

Italian fashion house Dolce & Gabbana is tapping two "Game of Thrones" fan-favorites to front the men's and women's version of the same fragrance.

Click here to read the entire article

Brioni reaffirms bond to legendary men with Samuel L. Jackson-fronted effort

Kering-owned menswear label Brioni has selected American actor Samuel L. Jackson as its latest campaign face.

Click here to read the entire article

Will Hudson's Bay Co. come to Neiman Marcus' aid?

Department store chain Neiman Marcus could be in the market for a new owner after financial results continue to underscore the retailer's recent struggles.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.