

NEWS BRIEFS

Ginza Six, Rolls-Royce, Stuart Weitzman, Harper's Bazaar and Prada – Live news

April 18, 2017

Stuart Weitzman, spring 2017 Bridal collection

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from April 17:

Luxury flocks to upscale shopping destination Ginza Six

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Luxury brands such as Christian Dior and Saint Laurent will operate stores in the new Ginza Six mixed-use development project located in upscale neighborhood Ginza, Tokyo.

Click here to read the entire article

Rolls-Royce taps students to create special experiences for bespoke division

British automaker Rolls-Royce is further personalizing bespoke, while simultaneously giving visual effects students a leg up in their careers with a new initiative.

Click here to read the entire article

Stuart Weitzman brings bridal footwear in-stores

U.S. footwear label Stuart Weitzman is walking down the aisle to give its bridal shoes a physical point of sale.

Click here to read the entire article

Harper's Bazaar compiles retrospective book for 150th anniversary

Hearst-owned fashion title Harper's Bazaar is showcasing the visions of its editors, photographers and stylists dating back to 1867 in a new tome.

Click here to read the entire article

Prada readies resort city boutiques ahead of summer holidaymakers

Italian fashion house Prada has launched a new store image concept, selecting Porto Cervo, Sardinia, Italy as a testing ground.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.