

NEWS BRIEFS

Nordstrom, Bremont, Airbnb, DVF and YNAP – Live news

May 5, 2017

Cuba is one of the destinations covered in Airbnb's debut magazine issue; photo by Lisette Poole

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from May 4:

DVF turns teacher in MasterClass workshop

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Fashion designer Diane von Furstenberg is disseminating her insights gleaned from more than four decades in the industry through an online course.

Click here to read the entire article

Bremont named first official timekeeper of Royal Henley Regatta

British watchmaker Bremont is among the luxury brands looking to raise awareness via the Henley Royal Regatta.

Click here to read the entire article

In-season brands drive YNAP's 15.4pc Q1 revenue increase

Yoox Net-A-Porter Group's revenues for the first quarter of 2017 grew across all regions, with North America and Asia Pacific seeing the steepest increases.

Click here to read the entire article

Nordstrom hires former Henri Bendel CFO

Department store chain Nordstrom has named Anne Bramman its new chief financial officer.

Click here to read the entire article

Airbnb links with Hearst for print travel title

Short-term home rental service Airbnb is encouraging consumers to be travelers rather than tourists in a new print magazine developed alongside publisher Hearst.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.