

NEWS BRIEFS

Automakers, Sotheby's, Belstaff, FIT, Rosewood and Blackglama – Live news

August 24, 2017

Golden retriever Pearl is Rosewood London's resident dog. Image credit: Rosewood, photo by James Bedford

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Aug. 23:

True luxury automakers are those unobtainable in the eyes of affluents

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

During Ipsos' webinar "Affluents in the Fast Lane," it was revealed that Japanese automaker Lexus is by far the top brand that comes to the mind of affluents in terms of luxury vehicles.

Click here to read the entire article

Frank Everett returns to Sotheby's after short Graff stint

International auction house Sotheby's is welcoming back jewelry executive Frank Everett.

Click here to read the entire article

Belstaff keeps sights on Japan with latest store debut

British apparel maker Belstaff has opened five retail locations in Japan in just more than a year.

Click here to read the entire article

FIT, Allure develop continuing education program for beauty industry

New York State University's The Fashion Institute of Technology is now offering an online noncredit certificate program to inspire marketers to consider the $265 billion global beauty industry as a career path.

Click here to read the entire article

Rosewood touts dog-friendly amenities ahead of National Dog Day

Rosewood Hotels & Resorts is making sure that even lap dogs are immersed in the lap of luxury while staying at any of its properties.

Click here to read the entire article

Blackglama dresses down furs in fall/winter 2017 effort

Black mink label Blackglama is taking a youthful and spirited angle to promote its latest collection of furs.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.