

NEWS BRIEFS

Prada, The Philippines, Birkin bags and La Grande Epicerie de Paris – News briefs

November 10, 2017

Prada Synthesis, resort 2018. Image credit: Prada

By STAFF REPORTS

Today in luxury:

Prada admitted to tax compliance regime with Italy's tax authorities

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

The Prada Group is one of the few Italian companies that has been admitted to the cooperative compliance regime with the Italian Tax Authority, in accordance with a legislation dating back to 2015, reports WWD.

Click here to read the entire article on WWD

Luxury living a bargain in Manila for wealthy Asians

Manila ranked as the third cheapest city in Asia to live a life of luxury largely due to "significant" depreciation of the Philippine peso, according to the latest annual "Wealth Report" of investment bank Julius Baer, per Phil Star Global.

Click here to read the entire article on Phil Star Global

Drake has been collecting Birkin bags for years for his future wife

Drake is still a single guy (as far as we know), but he's ready to shower his future wife with gifts. In a new interview with The Hollywood Reporter, the rapper revealed that he's already stocking up on Herms Birkin bags for The One, whoever she ends up being, says Harper's Bazaar.

Click here to read the entire article on Harper's Bazaar

France's LVMH expands its gourmet grocer in Paris

Luxury goods firm LVMH is opening a second high-end food hall in Paris, betting on growing appetite from locals for gourmet groceries as the group spruces up its stores across the French capital, according to Reuters.

Click here to read the entire article on Reuters

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.