

NEWS BRIEFS

UK real estate, Prada, Glashtte, Johnnie Walker, Miu Miu and Stella McCartney – Live news

December 29, 2017

The Muppets' Miss Piggy wears eyewear from Miu Miu fall/winter 2017. Image credit: Miu Miu

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Dec. 28:

Economic, political uncertainty led to "wait and see" real estate strategy in Britain

Prices for prime country homes in England and Wales rose a mere 0.4 percent during 2017, according to new data from Knight Frank.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Click here to read the entire article

Prada digital revamp to be completed by January's end

Italian fashion house Prada has launched a new ecommerce platform in China to better serve consumers based in the market.

Click here to read the entire article

Glashtte hosts cinematic countdown ahead of Berlinale

German watchmaker Glashtte Original is traveling the globe to seek out recognizable destinations from iconic films.

Click here to read the entire article

Johnnie Walker walks Striding Man's dogs for Chinese New Year

Scotch whisky-maker Johnnie Walker is honoring the bond between man and man's best friend for a limited-edition Blue Label bottle collaboration for Chinese New Year.

Click here to read the entire article

Miu Miu touts Miss Piggy's star power to promote eyewear

Apparel and accessories label Miu Miu is pitting today's top models against a cultural icon, Miss Piggy from "The Muppets."

Click here to read the entire article

Stella McCartney's Luxury Pavilion entry eases Kering, Alibaba tension

British fashion label Stella McCartney is the first Kering-owned brand to appear on Chinese ecommerce giant Alibaba's Luxury Pavilion.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.