

NEWS BRIEFS

Cline, Richemont, Ralph & Russo, Bentley and Herms – Live news

January 23, 2018

Phoebe Philo of Cline stepped down days before Christmas. Image credit: Cline

---

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Jan. 22:

Richemont seeks remaining 51pc of YNAP shares

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Luxury goods conglomerate Richemont is offering Yoox Net-A-Porter Group up to 2.77 billion euros to become its sole owner.

Click here to read the entire article

Bentley, RCA team to contemplate luxury's meaning in 2050

Automaker Bentley Motors is exploring the future of British luxury through a partnership with the United Kingdom's Royal College of Art (RCA).

Click here to read the entire article

Ralph & Russo turns influencer into model at couture show

Looking to raise the social media attention for its runway show during Paris Haute Couture week, fashion label Ralph & Russo cast an influencer in its model lineup.

Click here to read the entire article

Hedi Slimane returns to LVMH as Cline's creative director

Mot Hennessy Louis Vuitton has appointed designer Hedi Slimane as the new artistic, creative and image director of fashion house Cline.

Click here to read the entire article

Herms puts consumers in a stupor to build mystery

French leather goods house Herms is mesmerizing woman from all walks of life with a new campaign that puts viewers in a trance.

Click here to read the entire article

---

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.