

NEWS BRIEFS

Tod's, watches, JD.com and private jets – News briefs

January 25, 2018

Tod's is seeing improvement from new management. Image credit: Tod's

By STAFF REPORTS

Please be aware the clippings below may require a paid subscription to the listed media outlet to read an article in full.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Today in luxury:

Italy's Tod's sees benefits from new management starting in H2

Italian luxury group Tod's said on Wednesday results from the company's new management team would be visible starting from the second part of the year, though admitting 2018 will be a "year of transition," according to Reuters.

Click here to read the entire article on Reuters

Luxury watchmakers gear up for online square-off

The post-crisis battle lines for the luxury watch industry have been drawn. After years of waffling to varying degrees high-end watchmakers have emerged as new converts, scrambling to shore up their digital credentials, says Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the entire article on Women's Wear Daily

JD.com says Chinese companies finding it harder to enter US

The head of China's second-largest ecommerce operator said mainland companies are finding it harder to enter the U.S. market, reports Bloomberg.

Click here to read the entire article on Bloomberg

Taking a private jet could be more affordable than you think

As Rachel Raymond from West Orange, NJ, tells it, the day last August when she flew on a private jet ranks as one of the most unreal experiences of her life. Ms. Raymond, and her husband, Daniel, along with their three children, took a flight in a seven-seat jet, a Cessna Citation III, complete with two pilots and a well-stocked bar, from Westchester County Airport, in White Plains, NY, to upstate Saratoga Springs, per The New York Times.

Click here to read the entire article on The New York Times

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.