

NEWS BRIEFS

Prada, Swarovski, Tesla and colorful kitchens – News briefs

January 26, 2018

Prada is the subject of M&A speculation. Image credit: Prada

By STAFF REPORTS

Please be aware the clippings below may require a paid subscription to the listed media outlet to read an article in full.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Today in luxury:

Prada shares' spike ignite rumors

Days after showing the brand's men's collection for fall 2018, which was a hit with buyers in Milan, Prada is garnering attention for something altogether different, according to Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the entire article on Women's Wear Daily

Swarovski: We're really embracing the conscious luxury world

Swarovski executive board member Nadja Swarovski talks about the jeweler's prominence in different markets, and how the company has transformed, per CNBC.

Click here to watch the video on CNBC

Tesla, BMW cancel sale of cars auctioned by Presidents Club

Tesla and BMW have cancelled the sale of cars that were auctioned at the Presidents' Club evening, continuing the fallout from the controversial event, reports the Financial Times.

Click here to read the entire article on the Financial Times

Are colorful kitchens the new status symbol?

Recently, in the midst of renovating my Brooklyn row house's kitchen, I developed a crush on a slab of stone called pietra del cardosa, a dark blue sandstone with pale whorls like cosmic dust. Inky and imperfect, it struck me as the antidote to the morgue-like expanse of white marble that greeted me each time I scrolled Pinterest for kitchen-design ideas, says the Wall Street Journal.

Click here to read the entire article on the Wall Street Journal

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.