

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Louis Vuitton, Barneys, 432 Park Avenue, T Magazine, Herms and Lalique

February 8, 2018

Humanoïd mascot that once graced the hood of a luxury automobile. Image credit: UK National Motor Museum

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news on Feb. 8:

Louis Vuitton opens pop-up dedicated to spring's Archlight sneaker

French fashion house Louis Vuitton is exploring wardrobe items that transcend time in a pop-up in New York's SoHo neighborhood.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Click here to read the entire article

Barneys to open "24K" salon experience with Sally Hershberger

Department store Barneys New York is upping its experiential touchpoints within its Madison Avenue flagship with the inclusion of a celebrity stylist's hair salon.

Click here to read the entire article

432 Park Avenue becomes most-expensive New York residential building

The world's tallest residential building has also entered the record books in dollar amount, holding the most expensive sales.

Click here to read the entire article

T Magazine reveals new look, editorial features following creative overhaul

The New York Times' T Magazine is unveiling a digital and print refresh to elevate the newspaper supplement's fashion, luxury and cultural coverage.

Click here to read the entire article

Herms sees global growth in all regions in Q4 2017

French leather goods house Herms saw support from all global regions and business sectors this past quarter, but

Asia, not including Japan, saw the most growth.

Click here to read the entire article

Lalique's mascot artistry explored at UK automotive exhibit

Thanks to a private collector, French lifestyle brand Lalique's contribution to luxury motoring will be on view at the United Kingdom's National Motor Museum in Hampshire, England.

Click here to read the entire article

---

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.