

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Burberry, Jaguar, Nina Ricci, Selfridges and ModiFace

March 1, 2018

Burberry is getting new creative direction. Image courtesy of Burberry

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from March 1:

Jaguar challenges Tesla in electric vehicle reveal

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: just released
State of Luxury 2018 Save $246 ▶

British automaker Jaguar has premiered its first fully electric production vehicle as it looks to put pressure on other brands.

Click here to read the entire article

Nina Ricci denies split with Guillaume Henry

French fashion house Nina Ricci is denying reports that its creative director Guillaume Henry is leaving.

Click here to read the entire article

Selfridges eyes lasting legacy via art installation

British department store chain Selfridges is giving back to its hometown by supporting the City of London's Crossrail Art Programme.

Click here to read the entire article

Riccardo Tisci headed to Burberry

British fashion label Burberry has appointed Riccardo Tisci as Christopher Bailey's successor.

Click here to read the entire article

ModiFace simplifies beauty try-ons via Samsung integration

Beauty augmented reality technology company ModiFace is making it easier for owners of Samsung devices to virtually try on cosmetics.

Click here to read the entire article

© Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.