

NEWS BRIEFS

Gucci, Rolls-Royce, Sephora, Lancme, BMW and Booking.com – Live news

March 9, 2018

HOW WILL YOU USE
YOUR VOICE TODAY?

Gucci empowers women to incite change. Image credit: Gucci.

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from March 8:

Gucci shares words of empowerment in artful approach

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Italian fashion label Gucci is taking a poignant approach to support the gender that gives its pieces life in an International Women's Day initiative.

Click here to read the entire article

Rolls-Royce keeps its new hire within the BMW family

British automaker Rolls-Royce has looked into its own pool of talent with a new director of sales and marketing.

Click here to read the entire article

Sephora continues to advance customer journey through intelligence

LVMH-owned Sephora, known for its innovations in customer personalization and marketing, has announced that it is investing further in the tailored customer journey.

Click here to read the entire article

Lancme latest muse captures a strong social audience

Beauty marketer Lancme is looking to a prolific force in social media for its inspiration in upcoming marketing opportunities.

Click here to read the entire article

BMW celebrates Afro-Atlantic traditions with upcoming Art Journey

German automaker BMW is furthering its commitment to supporting up-and-coming artists as part of its Art Basel participation.

Click here to read the entire article

Booking.com rivals luxury travel brands with one-of-a-kind trips

Online travel portal Booking.com is challenging luxury hospitality brands for their affluent customers through a series of new itineraries that caters to consumers' growing desire for rare experiences.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.