

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Lexus, QE2, Mot Hennessy, Vogue Portugal, Zegna and Audi

April 18, 2018

Lexus is letting cars talk to each other and infrastructure. Image credit: Lexus

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from April 18:

Lexus paves way for future automation with car communication

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Lexus parent company Toyota Corporation is looking to make driving safer by allowing its vehicles to communicate with other cars and infrastructure.

Click here to read the entire article

Cruise ship QE2 opens as floating hotel in Dubai

Dubai hotel company PCFC Hotels has invested $100 million into turning legendary British cruise ship The Queen Elizabeth 2 into a floating hotel.

Click here to read the entire article

Mot Hennessy dedicates hundreds of volunteer hours to feeding New Yorkers

Spirits group Mot Hennessy is partnering with City Harvest to help combat hunger and poverty in New York, continuing the trend of luxury brands giving back to their communities.

Click here to read the entire article

Vogue Portugal's revamp goes for minimalist aesthetic

LISBON, Portugal After a major redesign, Vogue Portugal has reinvented itself as a publication dedicated to celebrating what is unique about the Portuguese luxury scene while maintaining the DNA that makes it part of the Vogue family.

Click here to read the entire article

Zegna celebrates 50 years of RTW in new exhibition

Italian menswear label Ermenegildo Zegna is celebrating 50 years of ready-to-wear fashion with an exhibition about the collection's origins.

Click here to read the entire article

Audi partners with DriveTribe ahead of electric car launch later this year

Ahead of Audi's highly anticipated entry into the electric vehicles market, the German automaker has partnered with car enthusiast social network DriveTribe to create exclusive promotional content for the launch.

Click here to read the entire article

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.