

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Valentino, Selfridges, entrepreneurship, YNAP, Madison Avenue and Genting Cruise Lines

May 11, 2018

Strong growth and investment from its owner has put Valentino's IPO on hold. Image credit: Valentino

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from May 11:

Valentino's IPO not happening after all

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

A few months ago, Italian fashion label Valentino seemed on the brink of an imminent initial public offering, but now, that IPO seems much less certain.

Click here to read the entire article

Selfridges honors Rolling Stones' history with pop-up shop

British retailer Selfridges is honoring The Rolling Stones along with the band's 2018 tour through a series of pop-up shops featuring apparel inspired by the iconic British group.

Click here to read the entire article

How humor, hard work can help women build a career in luxury

NEW YORK - For women in luxury, the world can sometimes be a hostile place, which is why it is important for them to learn to work together and support each other, according to two entrepreneurs who have done so for 20 years.

Click here to read the entire article

YNAP appoints former Sephora exec as global COO

Online retailer Yoox Net-A-Porter Group has appointed Olivier Schaeffer as global chief operating officer for the entire group.

Click here to read the entire article

Madison Avenue Watch Week kicks off with brands from across the globe

This year's Madison Avenue Watch Week includes some of the biggest names in luxury watches from across the world.

Click here to read the entire article

Genting Cruise Lines debuts mobile self-checkout system

Genting Cruise Lines is making purchasing on board its ships simple and digital with the help of online payment company Wirecard.

Click here to read the entire article

Click here to read the morning newsletter

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.