

NEWS BRIEFS

LVMH, Richemont, Swarovski, Ritz-Carlton, Gucci and Rmy Martin – Live news

June 5, 2018

Gucci autumn/winter 2018 men's tailoring campaign. Image courtesy of Gucci

---

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from June 4:

Ritz-Carlton Toronto sold to Cadillac Fairview

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Real estate developer and operator Cadillac Fairview has acquired The Ritz-Carlton, Toronto.

Click here to read the entire article

Swarovski commissions crystal patches for a cause

Precision-cut crystal maker Swarovski is aligning with a handful of New York-based labels to fundraise through fashion.

Click here to read the entire article

Gucci taps Harry Styles for tailoring campaign

Italian fashion label Gucci is combining celebrity and down-to-earth cuisine in its latest menswear efforts.

Click here to read the entire article

LVMH names Antoine Arnault head of communications, image

Conglomerate Mot Hennessy Louis Vuitton is looking to strengthen its communications by putting one of the group's heirs in charge.

Click here to read the entire article

Richemont completes sale of Lancel

Swiss conglomerate Richemont has sold French handbag label Lancel to Italian leather goods group Piquadro.

Click here to read the entire article

Rmy Martin uses AR to explore art in new mobile app

French cognac brand Rmy Martin is expanding its mobile offerings for customers with the launch of a new application focused on art and augmented reality.

Click here to read the entire article

---

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.