

NEWS BRIEFS

Solo tourism, Lexus, Stalvey and Zegna – News briefs

June 28, 2018

Zegna's latest campaign illustrates and animates stories submitted by fans. Image credit: Ermenegildo Zegna

By STAFF REPORTS

Please be aware the clippings below may require a paid subscription to the listed media outlet to read an article in full.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Today in luxury:

Inside the rise of solo luxury adventure tourism

The old adage preaches, "It is not where you go, but who you're with that matters." But for an aging and affluent generation keen on self-actualization and crossing items off their bucket lists, it is the where, not who, that takes precedence, says Skift.

Click here to read the entire article at Skift

Lexus recalls cars to fix fuel leaks that can cause fires

Toyota's Lexus luxury brand is recalling about 121,000 cars worldwide because of fuel leaks in the engine that can cause fires, writes The New York Times.

Click here to read the entire article at The New York Times

Stalvey to launch men's accessories

The luxury line of duffels, backpacks and small leather goods will be offered exclusively on Moda Operandi, reports Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the entire article at Women's Wear Daily

Zegna, Reliance invest in fashion designer Raghavendra Rathore

Italian luxury group Ermenegildo Zegna and Reliance Brands have collectively picked up an equity stake in homegrown fashion designer Raghavendra Rathore. The deal is the first such investment by a global luxury brand in a domestic fashion label, per Times of India.

Click here to read the entire article at Times of India

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.