

NEWS BRIEFS

Louis Vuitton, Halston and Dior – News briefs

July 15, 2011

By STAFF REPORTS

Today in luxury marketing -

Louis Vuitton plans new stores in Singapore

A top Louis Vuitton executive says the luxury goods maker plans to open two new stores in Asia and expand four others in the second half of the year, according to the Washington Post.

Please click here to read the entire story on Louis Vuitton

Sign up now

Luxury Daily

Harvey Weinstein has supposedly left Halston, too

News that Sarah Jessica Parker had terminated her contract with Halston broke earlier this week, and now it appears that one of the label's other star board members, Harvey Weinstein, is leaving as well, according to NYMag's The Cut.

Please click here to read the entire story on The Cut.

Discover Dior's latest high jewelry collection

The ultimate union of High Jewelry and Haute Couture pays homage to Monsieur Dior's favorite flower, the Rose, according to the Huffington Post.

Please click here to read the entire story on the Huffington Post.

Japan Fashion Week links with Mercedes-Benz

Japan Fashion Week has snagged a new high-profile sponsor in the form of Mercedes-Benz, a company very familiar with the world of the runway, according to Women's Wear Daily.

Please click here to read the entire story on WWD.

© Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.