

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Lanvin, Zegna, Land Rover, Tom Ford, Breitling and Tiffany

August 28, 2018

Lanvin spring/summer 2018 was the debut collection by Olivier Lapidus. Image credit: Lanvin

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Aug. 28:

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Lanvin hires new CEO in hopes of a turnaround

French fashion house Lanvin has found a new CEO in the latest of staff changes at the brand since Fosun International took over.

Click here to read the entire story

Zegna takes over Thom Browne in new acquisition

Italian fashion group Ermenegildo Zegna has acquired majority stake in fashion brand Thom Browne for half a billion dollars.

Click here to read the entire story

Land Rover caters to pet lovers with vehicle enhancements

British automaker Land Rover is leaning into consumers' excitement over their pets with a special vehicle package to make it easier to travel with furry companions.

Click here to read the entire story

Tom Ford spotlights beauty offerings in new Instagram page

Fashion label Tom Ford is following many of its contemporaries who have opted to create a separate Instagram account specific to their beauty lines.

Click here to read the entire story

Breitling heads to the ocean with surfing "squad"

Swiss watchmaker Breitling is hitting the waves with a group of professional athletes in its latest "squad" film.

Click here to read the entire story

Tiffany raises its expected outlook for H2 2018

U.S. jeweler Tiffany & Co has seen growth in profit and revenue so far this year, thanks to a worldwide demand for jewelry, especially in the Americas and China.

Click here to read the entire story

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.