

NEWS BRIEFS

Tiffany, Cadillac, Saudi Arabia and Trump – News briefs

September 27, 2018

Cadillac CT6 through the eyes of Jason Wu

By STAFF REPORTS

Please be aware the clippings below may require a paid subscription to the listed media outlet to read an article in full.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Today in luxury:

Tiffany & Co. stands behind young artists in London

Seven young artists have won a sponsorship jackpot from Tiffany & Co., part of an ongoing partnership with the Outset Contemporary Art Fund. The jeweler provides promising arts graduates with rent-free studio space for a year to help them refine their work and kick-start their careers, reports Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the entire article on Women's Wear Daily

GM's Cadillac to leave Big Apple, return to Michigan roots

General Motors Co said on Sept. 26 that Cadillac will switch its headquarters back to Michigan from New York after just three years to be closer to engineers and design teams as the luxury brand plans to roll out two new vehicles annually through 2020, per The New York Times.

Click here to read the entire The New York Times

Saudi Arabia announces project to build "global" tourism destination

Saudi Arabia's Public Investment Fund (PIF) announced on Wednesday plans to turn a section of its northwestern coast into a magnet for international tourists, part of a broader push to diversify the economy away from oil, according to Reuters.

Click here to read the entire article on Reuters

Trump Park Avenue penthouse could rent for \$1, lawyer alleges

In what would be one of the biggest bargains ever in Manhattan real estate, a 7,132 square-foot penthouse in the Trump Park Avenue building may have to go on the rental market for as little as a dollar because New York City has too many luxury units, says Bloomberg.

Click here to read the entire article on Bloomberg

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.