

NEWS BRIEFS

Louis Vuitton, luxury hotels, Renault and European luxury – News briefs

October 8, 2018

Louis Vuitton has on-site atelier in South Coast Plaza. Image credit: Paul Warchol

By STAFF REPORTS

Please be aware the clippings below may require a paid subscription to the listed media outlet to read an article in full.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Today in luxury:

Louis Vuitton CEO sees the future in California

The past and future, California, retail and streetwear. They're all seemingly disparate thoughts Louis Vuitton chairman and chief executive officer Michael Burke seamlessly guided a thread through as the luxury house celebrated its expanded South Coast Plaza store and atelier, says Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the entire story on WWD

Luxury hotels will now bring the drinks to you

Room service at luxury hotels is losing its appeal. Now guests are getting expertly crafted cocktails delivered to their door. Some hotels are dispatching bartenders or mixologists. And mini-bars are being turned into experiences in their own right, according to Bloomberg.

Click here to read the entire story on Bloomberg

Renault's low-rolling concept car is made for the good life

Long, low and covered in shimmering gold diamond-shapes, the Renault EZ-Ultimo concept car, unveiled at the Paris Motor Show, looks unlike any car the French automaker has ever produced. Or, for that matter, unlike any car anyone has ever made, reports CNN.

Click here to read the entire story on CNN

European luxury stocks fall on worries over China slowdown

Shares in European luxury goods companies were among the worst performers on Thursday in a broader stock market downturn, with traders and analysts citing persistent concerns over a slowdown in China, per The New York Times.

Click here to read the entire story on The New York Times

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.