Las Ventanas al Paraiso, A Rosewood Resort in the Baja region has shared its winter collection of experiences. A Magic Dinner series, mixology competitions, buggy racing, PGA instruction and a special sunscreen system are a few of the special experiences the hotel is offering.

Baja experiences

Rosewood is providing the experiences for the 2018 to 2019 winter season to entice guests to come to its Baja resort.

Magic Dinner Season 2 is the second year the hotel will be offering an experience of this kind.

An impressive dinner in the resort's herb gardens will be accompanied by a magician performance for a theatrical five-course meal with wine pairings.

Guests will also be able to participate in a Beachside Pop-up Mixology competition, where they compete by making a variety of cocktails to be tested by a panel of judges. The winning cocktail will be featured as the "cocktail of the day" at the resort's various restaurants.

Adventure-seekers will have the opportunity to race all-terrain Baja buggies across the desert.

Golf enthusiasts can book one-on-one lessons with a PGA professional on the resorts 18-hole Cabo del Sol Ocean Course. The experience will include drinks and food while on the course and is followed by massages.

A special sunscreen application system named SnappyScreen will allow guests to evenly protect against the sun with touchless technology.

Rosewood Hotels & Resorts is making it possible for affluent family and friends to gift one-of-a-kind experiences that only its properties can offer for the holidays for all its properties.

The “12 Days of Rosewood” is the hotel brand’s collection of giftable travel experiences for this year’s upcoming holiday season. A reflection of its name, the collection will feature 12 different unique experiences such as a bespoke cruise around the British Virgin Islands and a private training session on driving an Aston Martin (see story).
