

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: omnichannel retail, Mandarin Oriental, yacht app, LVMH, John Varvatos and Rolls-Royce

January 17, 2019

Mandarin Oriental's new building in Honolulu

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Jan. 17:

Consumers are channel-agnostic: Forrester

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Marketers need to stop compartmentalizing store shoppers and online consumers and begin treating them as one and the same.

Click here to read the entire story

Mandarin Oriental hires sales director prior to residence launch

Hospitality brand Mandarin Oriental is hoping to see an influx of buyers at its residences in Honolulu, HI with a new hire.

Click here to read the entire story

Yacht platform allows for digital booking, concierge

A new platform is launching in the hopes to make yacht booking easier, finding a new niche in the digital age.

Click here to read the entire story

LVMH, Rihanna team up for luxury fashion line

Luxury goods maker LVMH is rumored to be in talks with music artist Rihanna to create a luxury fashion line.

Click here to read the entire story

John Varvatos raises money through its connection to music

U.S.-based fashion label John Varvatos is continuing to support a mission to provide nutritious meals for those living with severe illnesses by bringing back its benefit concert.

Click here to read the entire story

Rolls-Royce heads to the slopes for the 2019 ski season

British automaker Rolls-Royce is catering to ski-enthusiasts, a group that has significant crossover with its affluent audience.

Click here to read the entire story

Click here for the morning newsletter

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.