

NEWS BRIEFS

Fendi, Prada, Tesla and Brexit – News briefs

February 22, 2019

Fendi's fall/winter 2019 runway show. Image credit: Fendi

By STAFF REPORTS

Please be aware the clippings below may require a paid subscription to the listed media outlet to read an article in full.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Today in luxury:

Fendi pays tribute to Karl Lagerfeld at fall 2019 show

Yesterday, Fendi paid tribute to its late creative director, Karl Lagerfeld, at the brand's Milan Fashion Week show, says Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the entire article on Women's Wear Daily

Miuccia Prada on fashion, football and racism

Ahead of her autumn/winter 2019 show, the contrarian designer and billionaire businesswoman speaks exclusively to Tim Blanks about Prada's response to its recent blackface scandal, the lack of honesty in fashion and why she loves football, per Business of Fashion.

Click here to read the entire article on Business of Fashion

Tesla's Model 3 loses recommended status from consumer reports

Tesla Inc.'s Model 3 sedan lost its coveted "recommended" status from influential product reviewer Consumer Reports less than a year after it was awarded, raising questions about the quality of the vehicle as the electric-car maker rushed to increase production, reports the Wall Street Journal.

Click here to read the entire article on the Wall Street Journal

Remain or leave? Carmakers confront hard Brexit choices

In three cavernous former Royal Air Force hangars at an old airbase in Wales, luxury carmaker Aston Martin is forging ahead with construction of a new vehicle assembly plant, according to Reuters.

Click here to read the entire article on Reuters

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.