

NEWS BRIEFS

Salvatore Ferragamo, Brexit, Christian Dior and cars – News briefs

March 13, 2019

Rainbow Future, 2018, Real wood hand-finished wedge handcrafted in organic cotton. Image credit: Salvatore Ferragamo

By STAFF REPORTS

Please be aware the clippings below may require a paid subscription to the listed media outlet to read an article in full.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Today in luxury:

Salvatore Ferragamo profitability, revenues down in 2018

Ceo Micaela Le Divelec Lemmi said the strategy to turn the company around is not completed and revealed that creative director Paul Andrew has put his namesake brand on hold, says WWD.

Click here to read the entire story on Women's Wear Daily

Theresa May's deal rejected, putting all Brexit options back in play

U.K. Prime Minister Theresa May's Brexit deal was rejected once again by Parliament, throwing the country deeper into political crisis and raising the prospect that the divorce will be delayed or even reversed, according to Bloomberg.

Click here to read the entire story on Bloomberg

V&A to extend Christian Dior exhibition run

As the V&A extends its run of Christian Dior: Designer of Dreams until Sept. 1 2019, here's what to expect from the largest and most comprehensive Dior exhibition to ever be staged in the U.K., per Vogue.

Click here to read the entire story on Vogue

These car models from BMW to Mercedes to Toyota are taking forever to sell on dealers' lots

It's an interesting time for the U.S. auto industry. With more American consumers preferring to drive larger SUVs and crossovers, sedan sales are dropping, a shift that some manufacturers failed to anticipate, reports USA Today.

Click here to read the entire story on USA Today

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.