

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Kering, Furla, Mandarin Oriental, Gucci, Bally and Four Seasons

March 18, 2019

Salem Mitchell is one of three influencers in Bally's new campaign with Vogue. Image credit: Bally

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from March 18:

Mandarin Oriental makes Beijing debut

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Hong Kong-based hospitality chain Mandarin Oriental Hotel Group has opened its first hotel in Beijing, expanding its footprint in China.

Click here to read the entire article

Gucci launches scholarship, nonprofit fund aimed at diversity

Italian label Gucci is looking to increase diversity and representation in fashion through the creation of a community fund and scholarship program.

Click here to read the entire article

Four Seasons furthers residence footprint with Nashville development

Hospitality group Four Seasons Hotels and Resorts is bringing its brand to Tennessee with the upcoming opening of a property that combines residences and a hotel.

Click here to read the entire article

Kering gives corporate site a magazine-style makeover

French luxury conglomerate Kering is updating its Web site design to be more dynamic and editorial.

Click here to read the entire article

Furla turnover up in 2018 as marketing, supply chain investments rise

Italian accessories label Furla's turnover has almost doubled in the last four years, topping 500 million euros in 2018.

Click here to read the entire article

Bally highlights personal style in activation with Vogue

Swiss apparel and accessories label Bally is touting its new Cecyle bag as the perfect finishing touch for an outfit, no matter a woman's personal style, in a new project with Vogue magazine.

Click here to read the entire article

Click here to read the morning newsletter

Subscribe now for access to 80,000+ articles

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.