

NEWS BRIEFS

China, Anna Wintour, Tesla and Marriott – News briefs

April 15, 2019

SPG, Marriott Rewards and The Ritz-Carlton Rewards are merging. Image credit: St. Regis

By STAFF REPORTS

Please be aware the clippings below may require a paid subscription to the listed media outlet to read an article in full.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save \$246 ▶

Today in luxury:

Luxury brands focus on China's younger consumers

Emerging from a Gucci store in Shanghai with a pair of $500 shoes, 25-year-old Xue Yueyue says worries about China's economy will not affect her spending, according to the Financial Times.

Click here to read the entire article on the Financial Times

Anna Wintour gets a little personal with Tina Brown

Anna Wintour had a good reason for wearing her big black sunglasses onstage with Tina Brown: eye surgery, says Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the entire article on Women's Wear Daily

Tesla halts online sales of \$35K version of Model 3

Tesla Inc. stopped online sales of the $35,000 base version of its Model 3 compact weeks after introducing it, the latest shift in sales tactics as the electric-car maker struggles to deliver long-promised affordability and avoid losing money, reports the Wall Street Journal.

Click here to read the entire article on the Wall Street Journal

Marriott says variety of brands is a strength not weakness

Marriott International Inc., the world's biggest hotel company with luxury brands such as St. Regis and Ritz-Carlton, says it is committed to all of its brands which give it the breadth to take advantage of fast-growing markets like China, per Reuters.

Click here to read the entire article on Reuters

---

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.