

NEWS BRIEFS

Tariffs, Hong Kong, Rémy Cointreau and Harvey Nichols – News briefs

September 12, 2019

The trade war is costing U.S. companies. Image credit: Alibaba

By STAFF REPORTS

Please be aware the clippings below may require a paid subscription to the listed media outlet to read an article in full.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Today in luxury:

Businesses paying highest tariffs ever as trade war rattles on

American companies paid $6.8 billion in tariffs in July, an increase of 62 percent from the same month in 2018, according to Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the entire article on Women's Wear Daily

Hong Kong unrest also roils watch industry

Richemont and Swatch Group are among those sharply affected by continued protests in the city, the top global market for high-end timepieces, says The New York Times.

Click here to read the entire article on The New York Times

Rémy Cointreau names Richemont's Vallat as CEO in luxury push

Rémy Cointreau SA is stepping up its push into high-end liquor, naming Eric Vallat of Swiss luxury watchmaker Richemont as its new chief executive officer, reports Bloomberg.

Click here to read the entire article on Bloomberg

Harvey Nichols dips a toe into the circular economy

The U.K. retailer is partnering with The Restory on a luxury goods after-care program that it hopes will increase customer loyalty, per Vogue Business.

Click here to read the entire article on Vogue Business

© 2019 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.