The terminal marks Jet Linx's 18th location nationwide and its first in the tri-state metropolitan area. One way Jet Linx differentiates itself from other private aviation companies is by limiting its service to communities where it has established a private terminal.

"Jet Linx is one of a kind: the only company that couples world-class operational excellence with a bespoke, local customer service experience," said Isaac C. Flanagan, base partner and president for Jet Linx New York, in a statement. "We have raised the bar for New York, offering a tasteful, thoughtful private terminal space with a global brand standard."

New York arrival

Jet Linx is entering the New York marketplace 20 years after its founding in Omaha, NE.

To better navigate the local community, Jet Linx New York is partnering with New York-based private investment firm The Radcliff Companies.

The 3,000-square-foot terminal was designed by Paul Bennett Architects to ensure a warm and comfortable environment. The new private terminal includes a central lounge area, several individual seating areas, private conference room, a fully equipped kitchen and dedicated hospitality area.

Jet Linx New York's grand opening was catered by famed restaurant Nobu and featured a live performance by singer-songwriter Alexa Ray Joel.

The aviation firm is also making travel easier for members of its Elevated Lifestyle benefit program with new partnerships.

Customers flying with Jet Linx as part of its benefits program will now be able to ship a wide range of items while traveling door-to-door with ease. Luggage Free ships these items for them, including large items such as bicycles and strollers with guaranteed on-time delivery (see story).
