

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Jaguar Land Rover, Van Cleef & Arpels, Vogue Singapore, Net-A-Porter and Netflix

January 16, 2020

Vogue's Singapore edition is a nod to the city state's booming fashion and luxury retail market, as well as the clout of the local and expatriate purchasing power. Image credit: Cond Nast

By STAFF REPORTS

Luxury Daily's live news from Jan. 16:

Jaguar Land Rover working on shape-shifting seat to address driving ergonomics

While most automaker talk currently focuses on transition to electric motors or hybrid engine with appealing paint and trim options, few focus on the one area that could use innovation: the seat.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Please click here to read the entire article

Van Cleef & Arpels showcases high jewelry at Milan exhibition

Called "Van Cleef & Arpels: Time, Nature, Love," the exhibition runs through Feb. 23, curated by Alba Cappellieri and with scenography by Johanna Grawunder.

Please click here to read the entire article

Vogue, enticed by Singapore's fashion and luxury demand, to launch local edition

Published under license by Indochine Media, Vogue Singapore will have a print magazine and Web site supported by a presence across social platforms such as Instagram, Twitter and Facebook.

Please click here to read the entire article

Net-A-Porter goes with Netflix for Next In Fashion contest and \$250K grand prize for winning designer

The contest has been chronicled in 10 episodes that viewers can binge on when they are made live Jan. 29. The winning designer's collection will be available next month on Net-A-Porter.

Please click here to read the entire article

Please click here to read the morning newsletter: What will retail look like in 2030?

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.