

NEWS BRIEFS

Elsewhere: Prada, Abercrombie & Kent, Hong Kong and Tesla

February 5, 2020

Prada spring summer 2020 effort in Elle U.S. Image credit: Daniel Clavero for Prada

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Elsewhere in luxury (subscription may be required):

Miuccia Prada will be getting sensitivity training

It is part of a settlement the company reached with the New York City Commission on Human Rights to address recent racist incidents. Dior and Gucci are next.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Please click here to read the article on NYTtimes.com

Abercrombie & Kent: Reinventing the meaning of luxury

Unashamedly luxe holidays from a brand with a rich history of redefining the luxury travel experience.

Please click here to read the entire article on FT.com

Hong Kong retailers' "double devastation" in coronavirus crisis

Spending in watches and jewelry, apparel, accessories and cosmetics are down by more than 60 percent over Lunar New Year.

Please click here to read the entire article on WWD.com

Tesla's 2020 advance blows past 100 percent, leaving Wall Street in awe

Shares continue parabolic surge, rising 36 percent in two days

Please click here to read the article on Bloomberg.com
