

NEWS BRIEFS

IMF, Johnstons of Elgin, LVMH Prize and Zegna

April 15, 2020

Finalists of the 7th edition of the LVMH Prize for Young Fashion Designers. The top prize will not be handed out in 2020 because of the COVID-19 coronavirus lockdown in Paris where the final judging round was supposed to be held June 5. Instead, the $329,000 prize will split equally among the eight finalists. Image credit: LVMH Prize for Young Fashion Designers

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news:

IMF's take on lockdown: "Worst economic downturn since the Great Depression"

A senior economist at the International Monetary Fund has given a rather somber assessment of the global economy as the lockdown decimates lives and livelihoods.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Please click here to read the article

CEO of Johnstons of Elgin, UK's largest textile employer, talks strategy to UKFT during COVID-19 crisis

How is the CEO of the United Kingdom's largest textile employer making difficult decisions about the company, employees and its future as the COVID-19 coronavirus lockdown takes it toll business?

Please click here to read the article

LVMH Prize's top gong scrapped for this year over COVID-19

The LVMH Prize will not be handed out this year as a consequence of the COVID-19 coronavirus pandemic, disappointing many budding designers who could have benefited from the doors opened and attendant publicity of being anointed the winner.

Please click here to read the article

Zegna to make 280,000 protective suits for hospitals in Italy, Switzerland

Zegna Group, owner of Italian fashion label Ermenegildo Zegna, has reopened its production facilities in Italy and Switzerland to make protective hospital suits for medical staff.

Please click here to read the article

Brands should nurture loyal wealthy customers as retention is key to bounceback

As wealthy individuals see their portfolios contract from the COVID-19-related recession, some are scaling back on purchases.

Please click here to read the article

---

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.