

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Sephora China, Tiffany, Genesis, Vestiaire Collective and UK real estate

May 12, 2020

After introducing direct shipping to the United States, Vestiaire Collective intends to walk that model to Asia. Image courtesy of Vestiaire Collective

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news:

Virtual Sephora Day in China attracts 1M+ viewers for 2020 beauty trends presentation

LVMH-owned cosmetics retailer Sephora China did not miss a beat when it transitioned its Sephora Day online this year presenting spring/summer beauty trends.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Please click here to read the article

Tiffany joins 330 organizations in call to US Congress for sustainable economy after COVID-19

Styled as the largest call to action from the business community to members of the U.S. Congress, the event will feature senior executives including Anisa Kamadoli Costa, Tiffany's chief sustainability officer.

Please click here to read the article

Genesis introduces at-home car shopping service to further personalize customer relationship

Called Genesis Concierge, the service offers customers their own personal shopper to serve as a host and guide through the process of shopping and buying a new Genesis car.

Please click here to read the article

French fashion resale giant Vestiaire Collective brings direct shipping service to US

French fashion resale platform Vestiaire Collective will May 13 officially launch its direct shipping service in the United States for all orders under $500.

Please click here to read the article

Where next for UK residential transactions and prices?

British real estate brokerage Knight Frank's view is that a decline of 7 percent in U.K. prices and 5 percent in prime London and prime regional prices will be experienced through 2020, with much of this decline already having taken place between March and May.

Please click here to read the article

Luxury business to contract by 20-35pc this year: Bain update

The luxury market is likely to contract 20-35 percent this year, as the COVID-19 pandemic has shut down the world and brought business across luxury sectors to a halt, according to an updated Bain & Company report.

Please click here to read the article

Webinar on May 13: China Luxury Rebound: Lessons for Other Markets

China is key to luxury's return to growth after the COVID-19 lockdowns evaporated sales worldwide. What lessons can luxury marketers learn from China's response to the pandemic? Is there a new playbook for luxury and what are its rules? To find out, please register for Luxury Daily's free webinar with Agility Research & Strategy on Wednesday, May 13 at 11 a.m. to noon ET (New York time).

Please click here to read the article

Please click here to read the morning newsletter

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.