

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Bal Harbour Shops, Fendi, Ferrari, Richemont chairman, Lexus and Ipsos

May 18, 2020

Van Cleef & Arpels' jewelry selection for Mother's Day 2020. Image credit: Van Cleef & Arpels

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news:

Florida's Bal Harbour Shops reopens with social distancing, health guidelines

Florida's Bal Harbour Shops, an open-air shopping center in tropical setting with leading luxury brands as tenants, reopened its doors May 18 after adhering to health guidelines issued by federal, state and local officials.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Please click here to read the article

Fendi reopens stores, Ferrari unlocks doors to museums as Italy relaxes lockdowns

As Italy relaxes its lockdowns, brands are gradually reopening stores and facilities.

Please click here to read the article

Richemont chairman Johann Rupert on company future: "Impossible to make meaningful predictions"

Johann Rupert, chairman of Swiss conglomerate Richemont, sounded a sobering note on the immediate future of the luxury business as the COVID-19 coronavirus outbreak and resultant lockdowns and travel bans take their toll on global economies.

Please click here to read the article

Japan's Lexus shifts gears with TV spot as US lockdowns ease

Japanese automaker Lexus has introduced a new integrated campaign, marking a shift from its "People Business" COVID-19 spots as more U.S. states resume business with easing lockdowns.

Please click here to read the article

Financial realities, market losses hurting affluent consumers' view of own financial advisors

What do affluent consumers say financial advisers can do better to help them through the current crisis?

Please click here to read the article

Should retailers stop accepting cash?

As luxury businesses try to reimagine what the new normal will look like after stores and venues begin to reopen, many are wondering if it is time to move into cashless experiences.

Please click here to read the article

Please click here to read the morning newsletter

© 2020 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.