

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Kering, Cartier, Ferrari and Suzy Menkes

July 2, 2020

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news:

Kering publishes first biodiversity strategy as part of ambitious sustainability push

Luxury conglomerate Kering has unveiled a new dedicated biodiversity strategy with a series of new targets to achieve a "net positive" impact on biodiversity by 2025.

Please click here to read the article

Cartier turns to China, South Korea for upgraded Pasha de Cartier watch launch

French jeweler Cartier will put Asia to the test with the relaunch of its Pasha de Cartier watch in China and South Korea this month, followed by a global debut elsewhere in September.

Please click here to read the article

Ferrari receives equal salary certification for pay parity between men and women

Ferrari is the first Italian company to receive this specific certification.

Please click here to read the article

Suzy Menkes' departure will leave gaping hole in Conde Nast's fashion overview

Suzy Menkes, perhaps the most-known face in fashion journalism, is turning in the towel at Conde Nast, a New York-based publisher of magazines such as Vogue, Vanity Fair and The New Yorker that took style and glamour coverage to new levels.

Please click here to read the article

Do office legal protections apply to full-time employees at home?

As work-from-home has become a new lifestyle for employees that does not seem to have an end in sight, brands must establish protocols to ensure that they are legally protected from any issues that could arise.

Please click here to read the article

Please click here to read the morning newsletter