

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Mercedes-Benz, Microsoft, Kering, Kerby Jean-Raymond and Hennessy

September 11, 2020

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news:

Mercedes-Benz USA, Microsoft launch first mixed-reality automotive maintenance system

Mercedes-Benz USA is collaborating with Microsoft Corp. on remote automotive maintenance using mixed reality software technology.

Please click here to read the article

Kering partners with US designer Kerby Jean-Raymond for "Your Friends in New York" talent platform

French luxury conglomerate Kering has partnered with African-American fashion designer Kerby Jean-Raymond to launch a new platform meant to groom the next generation of innovators.

Please click here to read the article

5 key steps in the 2020 grape harvest for Hennessy Cognac

The grape harvest is the most symbolic time of year for winegrowers, marking the culmination of months of tending the vines.

Please click here to read the article

Luxury's landscape is rapidly shifting. Find out how

Register now for Luxury Daily's Future of Luxury eConference Sept. 23-24 as brands and retailers face unprecedented changes in customer behavior. Check out our list of 40-plus speakers from the leading luxury brands and retailers worldwide and nearly 40 sessions in the agenda article. First 100 registrants receive Luxury Daily's Future of Luxury special report! Register now limited seats online.

Please click here to read the article

Which changes in consumer behavior will persist after lockdown?

In the six months since COVID-19 led to prolonged lockdowns across the globe, it is clear that the pandemic has transformed consumer behaviors, attitudes and even lifestyles.

Please click here to read the article

Please click here to read the morning newsletter
