

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: McLaren Automotive, Stuart Weitzman, David Yurman and Future of Luxury eConference

September 15, 2020

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news:

McLaren North America records 11pc jump in certified pre-owned vehicle sales despite pandemic

Sports car maker McLaren North America has posted an 11 percent increase in certified pre-owned vehicle sales for the year to August versus the comparable period.

Please click here to read the article

Serena Williams in next round for Stuart Weitzman's fall 2020 campaign

Tennis star Serena Williams has returned to feature in footwear maker Stuart Weitzman's fall 2020 campaign, modeling the latest looks from the Tapestry-owned brand.

Please click here to read the article

US jeweler David Yurman takes inspiration from stained glass for fall campaign, collection

U.S. jeweler David Yurman has debuted its fall 2020 campaign, celebrating relaxed American luxury in a contemporary manner.

Please click here to read the article

Your last chance this year to hear 42 speakers discuss future of luxury

Please don't sit on the fence – luxury is in for a major transition in the year ahead and you want to know where your brand stands with evolving consumer behavior and border restrictions. Luxury Daily has brought together the smartest minds in the luxury business to share their insights on how to navigate the new normal. Don't miss this opportunity – take the next step.

Please click here to read the article

Models' suit against Vogue, Moda Operandi: How changes in business affect a company's legal concerns

A recent lawsuit, entitled Champion v. Moda Operandi Inc. and filed in federal court in Manhattan, involves 38 fashion "supermodels," bringing claims against online designer outlet Modus Operandi and its marketing partner, Vogue.

Please click here to read the article

Please click here to read the morning newsletter