Luxury Daily®

The News and Intelligence You Need on Luxury
Day's wrap: Richemont, Delvaux, Neiman Marcus, Farfetch, Wheels Up and COVID-19

June 30, 2021

The Cool Box MM and Brilliant Mini bags from Delvaux. Image credit: Delvaux

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news for June 30:

Richemont acquires leather goods house Delvaux
Swiss luxury group Richemont is acquiring 100 percent of Belgian handbag house Delvaux in a private transaction.

Please click here to read the article

Neiman Marcus to go fur-free by 2023
U.S. retailer Neiman Marcus has announced its plans to go fully fur-free by 2023, as more retailers distance themselves from animal furs.

Please click here to read the article

Farfetch, ThredUp launch donation service in US
Online retailer Farfetch is partnering with resale platform ThredUp in launching its donation service in the United States.

Please click here to read the article

Wheels Up partners with Landry's, expanding member benefits
Private aviation firm Wheels Up is adding to its member benefits through a new partnership with Landry's Inc, a multibrand dining and hospitality corporation.

Please click here to read the article

Regions, businesses reconsider COVID-19 prevention measures amid delta variant
With the new delta variant of COVID-19 contributing to climbing case counts in areas with lower rates of vaccinations, some governments are putting in place new restrictions to safeguard the health of both residents and recovering economies.

Please click here to read the article

Digital tools reinforce brand authenticity, sustainability for conscious consumers
As ecommerce offerings are constantly revolutionized and people return to in-store shopping, contemporary consumers continue demanding authenticity and sustainability.

Please click here to read the article

Please click here to read the morning newsletter