

NEWS BRIEFS

Versace, Fendi, Gucci, Burberry, Ferrari and Four Seasons

September 28, 2021

A look from the Fendi by Versace collection. Image courtesy of Fendi

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Looks from the Versace by Fendi (left) and Fendi by Versace (right) collections. Images courtesy of Fendi

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Luxury Daily's live news for Sept. 27:

Versace, Fendi swap designs to close Milan Fashion Week

Italian fashion houses Versace and Fendi ended Milan Fashion Week with an unprecedented design swap, presenting two collaborative capsule collections.

Please click here to read the article

Gucci debuts online concept store

Italian fashion house Gucci has launched Vault, an online concept store created through the vision of the brand's creative director Alessandro Michele.

Please click here to read the article

Burberry appoints new chief digital and analytics officer

British fashion house Burberry has named CP Duggal as chief digital and analytics officer, a newly created position, effective Sept. 30.

Please click here to read the article

Ferrari partners with Sir Jony Ive, Marc Newson

Italian automaker Ferrari and its parent company Exor have announced a long-term, multi-year collaboration with renowned designers Sir Jony Ive and Marc Newson of the creative collective LoveFrom.

Please click here to read the article

Four Seasons at Home expands product offerings

Hospitality group Four Seasons Hotels and Resorts has expanded its collection of luxury goods through its online retail platform.

Please click here to read the article

© 2021 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.