The partnership includes in-game, in-market and unique engagement initiatives that will present the brokerage's portfolio of properties. Dolphins fans will now be able to connect with One Sotheby's International Realty's network of agents to discuss real estate and football.

"We are excited to expand our presence in sports and entertainment by aligning with the iconic Miami Dolphins and harnessing the power football has to bring people together," said Daniel de la Vega, president of One Sotheby's International Realty, in a statement.

"We believe deeply in the vision and enduring commitment of Stephen Ross and his executive team to the Dolphins organization and the South Florida community."

Welcome to Miami

One Sotheby's International Realty will participate in the annual Dolphins Business Combine where players participate in leadership and business development opportunities. The event began in 2017.

The partnership will bridge Dolphins players with Sotheby's agents and the Florida community.

"We are thrilled to expand our partnership with ONE Sotheby's International Realty," said Jeremy Walls, senior vice president, chief revenue officer of Miami Dolphins., in a statement.

"They have a globally recognized brand that represents excellence in South Florida and in our community."
